

Manufacturers' Shipments, Inventories and Orders

April 1969

FOR RELEASE: June 3, 1969

NEW ORDERS

New orders for manufactured products in April increased $1.2 billion to $54.5 billion from $53.3 billion in March, after seasonal adjustment, the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, announced today. All of the increase was in the durable goods sector which rose to a total of $31.0 billion as nondurable orders were relatively unchanged from the March total of $23.6 billion. Gains occurred in virtually all major durable industry groups with railroad equipment, iron and steel, and machinery recording significant increases.

New orders in April for the supplementary series on machinery and equipment reached $7.1 billion compared with a March total of $6.4 billion reflecting primarily the unusually large increase in orders for railroad equipment. Orders for defense products at $2.1 billion were $100 million below their March total of $2.2 billion while orders for consumer durables also remained stationary at $2.2 billion for the third consecutive month. (SEE CHART 1)

SHIPMENTS

Manufacturers' shipments in April increased to $53.3 billion compared with $53.1 billion in March. This relatively slight increase was accounted for by the durable goods industries with transportation equipment and fabricated metals reporting the larger gains. April shipments of nondurable goods were $23.5 billion virtually unchanged from March. (SEE CHART 2)

UNFILLED ORDERS

Unfilled orders held by durable goods manufacturers at the end of April increased $1.2 billion from the end of March level of $85.2 billion. The small increase in shipments of durable goods combined with the larger increase in backlog resulted in an increase of the unfilled orders-shipments ratio for durable goods to 3.24 in April from 3.21 in March. The increase in backlog was particularly significant in the industries which comprise the supplemental series on machinery and equipment. (SEE CHART 3)

INVENTORIES

Total inventories held by all manufacturers at the end of April increased on a seasonally adjusted basis to $91.0 billion compared with $90.3 billion at the end of March. As a result of the $700 million increase in total inventories, compared with the smaller $200 million increase in shipments, the inventories-shipments ratio edged up to 1.71 in April from 1.70 in March. The inventories of durable goods manufacturers increased $400 million to $59.4 billion whereas nondurable goods manufacturers increased their stocks by $300 million to $31.6 billion. At the all manufacturing level, increases occurred in inventories for all stages of fabrication (finished goods, work-in-process, and materials and supplies.)

The figures on the durable goods industries in this report supersede those issued earlier in the advance report on durable goods. The advance report is based on a tabulation of early reports and is limited to statistics on shipments, new orders, and unfilled orders for a few broad industry categories. The present report is based on more complete reporting, but the estimates are also considered preliminary. Final figures will appear as historical data in the report to be published for next month.

Inquiries concerning these figures should be addressed to the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Industry Division, Washington, D.C. 20233.

*During 1968 manufacturers in ordnance, communications, aircraft and aircraft parts, and shipbuilding industries began to provide aggregate figures on shipments, orders, and total inventories of work performed for Department of Defense. The results of these reports are included in these new defense series. Since there is no historic data available to develop separate seasonal factors for these reporters, the data has been seasonally adjusted using the factors of these industries. ^pPreliminary. ^rRevised. ¹Shipments and new orders adjusted for trading-day and calendar month variation; unfilled orders and inventories as of end of month. ²The supplementary series are regroupings of the separate industry categories as follows:

- Consumer durable goods industries - Household furniture; kitchen articles and pottery; cutlery, handtools, and hardware; household appliances; ophthalmic goods, watches, and clocks; and miscellaneous personal goods.
- Machinery and equipment industries - Machinery, except electrical (excluding farm machinery and equipment and machine shops), electrical machinery (excluding household appliances, communication equipment and electronic components), shipbuilding and repairing, and railroad and street car equipment.
- Defense products industries (old series) - Based on reports for companies classified in the communication equipment, complete aircraft, aircraft parts, and ordnance industries. (Thus, this series includes significant amounts of nondefense work in these industries and omits defense work performed in the shipbuilding industry.)
- Defense products (new series) - Based on separate reports on defense work filed by large defense contractors in the following industries: ordnance, communications, complete aircraft, aircraft parts, and shipbuilding. Thus, it differs from the old series in that it includes defense activity in shipbuilding and excludes non-defense work in ordnance, communications, complete aircraft, and aircraft parts. The data are comparable to those published annually in the MA-175, Shipments of Defense-Oriented Industries, for the specified industries.
